

Hello there!

Do you have a website you need to build?

Remember how complicated talking to programmers (i.e. nerds) can be?

Remember the agony and the sleepless nights worrying about your web project?

It doesn't have to be that way. MORRA is a fresh IT development company created by a designer and a technology enthusiast. We're your best friends who understand you. We understand what "move two pixels to the left" means to you.

We're making IT solution as it should be. Pain-free.
